

Frank L. Madla ECHS Creed

I will distinguish myself by striving to be extraordinary

I welcome the challenges I will face
I do not fear trials, for I have the grit to move forward regardless of hurdles

I will not let those who tell me I cannot succeed dictate my life
I am aware of the talent and skills I possess

I will elevate my thinking
I will be a great influence to my family and to my peers

I will make a positive contribution in my community
I will use my education to impact the world

I am somebody
I am extraordinary
I am a game changer
No one will convince me otherwise
This is my destiny
